

Bachelor Students to Join Late Lecture

If you are interested in boosting your own career at an early stage, while positively impacting universities and fellow students, consider joining Late Lecture.

We help bridge the gap between the final grade and your future employer by arranging talks with successful entrepreneurs, leaders, scientists and more. Furthermore, we create interviews and on-tours with flourishing companies.

Boost your career: Often grades are not enough. Improve your career greatly by doing meaningful and relevant work besides school to land your dream job. Late Lecture is also the perfect way to create a relevant network of contacts, which will benefit you enormously.

Your qualifications:

- Bachelor student in Denmark
- Self driven, friendly and motivated
- Great communicator
- Able to work about 5 hours per week

Your role: In Late Lecture you are very free to choose what you want to do. The work could range from coordinating events, writing short-reads, acquiring presenters or funding, designing, financial overview and much more. We are also looking for future leaders of the organization.

What do we offer?

- Social arrangements
- High degree of freedom
- Friendly and welcoming environment
- Opportunity to use and improve your skills
- Extremely flexible with exam periods

We encourage all students from all universities, especially bachelor students, to apply by filling out the short form at www.latelecture.dk/apply. Read more about Late Lecture on www.latelecture.dk and feel free to ask questions on hey@latelecture.dk.
